OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

May, 2006

Dear Graduates,

I congratulate you as you complete your senior year of studies at Bishop Byrne Middle and High School. I am extremely pleased that you have met the standards and the discipline required of you. With diploma in hand, you can look to your future with confident trust in your ability to achieve.

Graduating from Bishop Byrne Middle and High School means that you have achieved a milestone in your life. May you now move on to greater achievements. And as you do so, I pray that you will use the wisdom and knowledge gained through your studies and that the values and discipline learned in the classroom and on the playing field will lead you on to meet the challenges ahead.

May you always remember with pride that you are graduates from Bishop Byrne Middle and High School! And may Bishop Byrne Middle and High School always be proud to claim you as its graduates of the year 2006!

Congratulations and may God continue to bless you!

In the Divine Word,

+ J. Terry Steib, S.V.D.

The Shield 2005-2006 is dedicated to Zakiya Emil Pringle who passed through our lives briefly on his way to God December 24, 2005. It is dedicated as well to our office secretary of 35 years, Miss Charlene Marshall. Miss Marsall lovingly copied Zakiya's notes onto pink paper which he could read more easily, a true work of love on her part.

Zakiya Pringle, dancer extraordinaire, was displaced with his family by Hurricane Katrina which hit his hometown of Biloxi, Mississippi in August, 2005.

The Year of the Hurricanes

In 2005 the Hurricanes Katrina and Rita hit the Gulf Coast causing devastation and loss. Hurricane Katrina occurred in late August of 2005. The devastation was heavily felt in New Orleans, Louisiana. Some citizens of New Orleans evacuated before the hurricane and were lucky to have made that decision.

The people who stayed in New Orleans and survived the hurricane endured in difficult circumstances. After the storm, many people fled to the Superdome or to the Chamber of Commerce building. The latter became a center of violence, as guns were taken into the building. When the New Orleans police arrived, they were fired upon by those who had guns in the building. After several days many citizens were evacuated from the Superdome to the Astrodome in Houston.

Many thousands of people who lived in the Gulf were displaced all over the country. A number of teenage students came North to school in Memphis. Bishop Byrne High School initially admitted fourteen students. Some came from the Biloxi area and others from schools in New Orleans

Like every horrible catastrophe, the aftermath could be described as one of frustration and hope. People affected have hope that the future will and must be brighter, although the present is often frustrating and hard to bear.

Larrie Moore

A Student Witness to Hurricane Katrina and its Aftermath

My life before the hurricane

I was just about to start school before Katrina hit. I had my school uniforms and everything else. I was very active in my church and I had all kinds of connections. I had a job at a club also. My job was to book parties, including bachelor and bachelorette parties. I had had it all my life and made sure fire money. Most of my family lived in New Orleans. Now they are all over the place. Katrina sure had different plans for me!

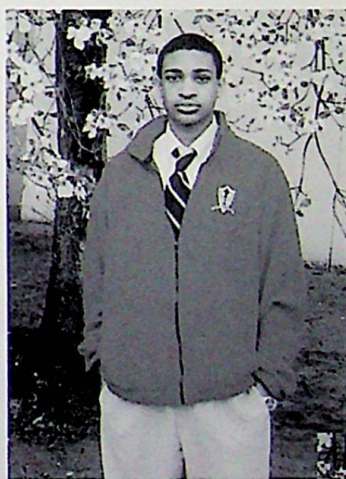

The day of evacuation

I called all of my friends and told them I was going out of town. My family and I packed some things and left the house. The family went and got food money out of the bank and gassed up their car. We locked up the house and made sure that everyone was in the car. Then we got on the road and drove straight through to Memphis.

Life after Hurricane Katrina

We got into a hotel and I was so upset from all the stress that I wanted to throw something. After that I calmed down some and got on my feet and drove around looking for a high school to go to. We bought school uniforms and clothes and called up all our people to see if they were okay. My mom had to find a job and so did I. My brothers had to find a school to go to also. Hurricane Katrina was an event in my life that I will never forget.

Senior/Freshman Day

The one day that the Seniors and the Freshmen get to hang out all day is Senior/Freshman Day! Games were enjoyed; food was eaten and gifts were exchanged. Every Senior was assigned one or two Freshmen. They spent the whole day getting to know one another better.

The objective of Senior/Freshman Day is to bond the outgoing Seniors with the incoming Freshmen.

“Trust your Friend”

This game of trust was played by the Seniors and Freshman on Senior/Freshmen Day. The objective of the game was to build relationships between members of the two classes.

During the game, the participants placed their hands on the shoulders of the person in front of them. They were led around the parking lot blindfolded.

This game was a bonding experience for all the Seniors and Freshmen.

An important thing we have learned about our Lady Red Knight Volleyball Team is that team members would never hang their heads and give up. They put forth total effort all the time. In the eyes of the Lady Red Knights there was determination to fight on with full force. They learned that the game is not just about winning. It is about teamwork and playing to the best of one's ability.

Words of Inspiration

One thing that I have learned this year is never give up without a fight. The girls this year worked very hard at practices and games. It is not always about winning, and that is the most important thing that we all learned. It is about doing your best, and playing to your full potential.

Senior -Starlett Balfour
Words of Inspiration

Life is filled with many highs and lows. It is not up to me to say how the outcome unfolds. I face each new challenge, to triumph or fail according to the will of Jesus Christ. As I played through this sports adventure, I discovered that something positive can develop out of difficult game situations. Sportsman-ship requires doing your best always!

Serving Our Way Through Life

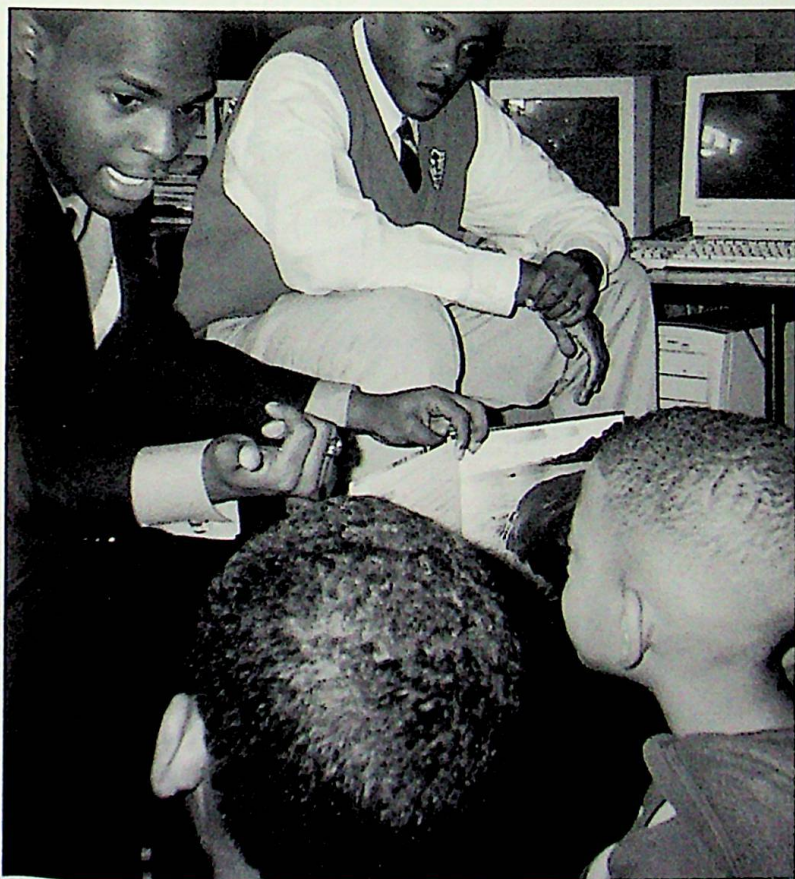

Christian Service

Christian Service is a heart-warming volunteer project that allows the members of the Senior class to interact with the older generation. It gives them something to look forward to on a daily basis. Words alone cannot express the joy that both the students and the elderly experience. The pictures tell the rest of the story.

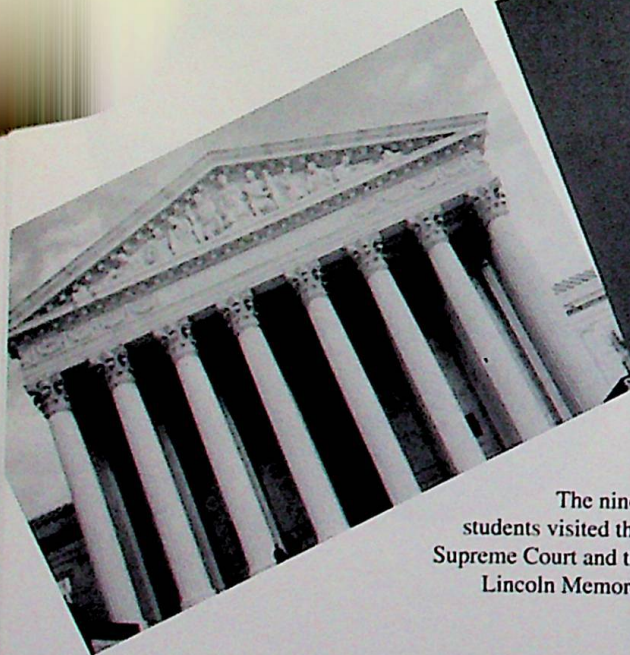

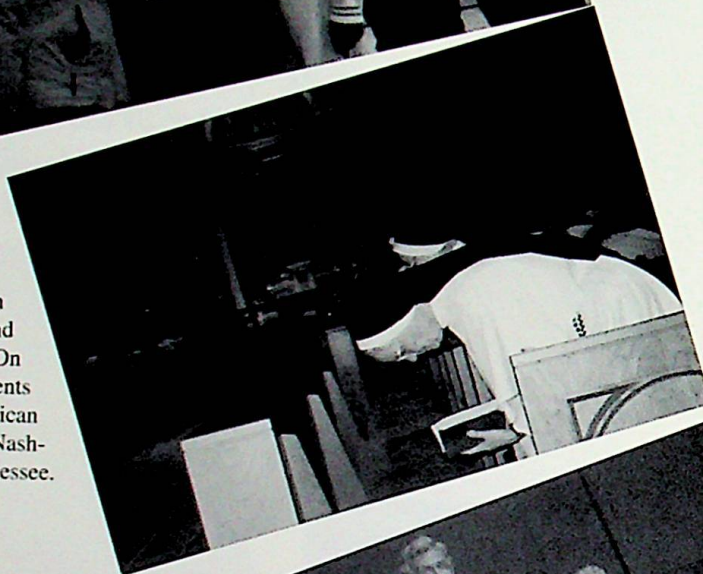

Senior students also go to several elementary schools and interact with the children. They help them with their ABC's and 1,2,3's. As seen in the photos, the children enjoy reading, writing, and arts and crafts. One of the boys from St. Paul shows off his mask from the Mardi Gras parade as his class gets back to work as busy little folk.

All Schools Mass

The Catholic All Schools Mass takes place each year during the winter term of school. All of the students from each and every Catholic school and Home school travel by bus to attend this Mass. This year the Mass was at the Colosseum located in the Fairgrounds off Central Avenue. All of the area priests concelebrated the mass with Bishop Steib.

Miss Sylvia Viglietti

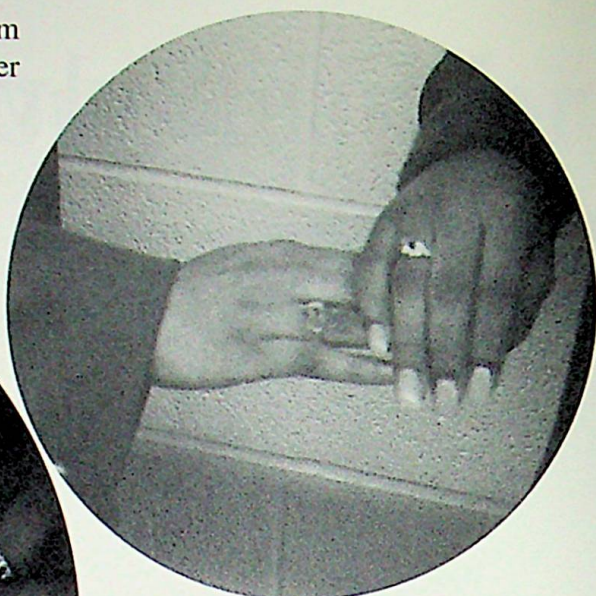

On October 1, 2005 Bishop J. Terry Steib joined the school community for a Eucharistic Celebration honoring the work and gifts of Miss Sylvia Viglietti, for whom the gymnasium has been named. Miss V was a member of the faculty for 35 years.

Miss Viglietti retired in 2004 and substitutes at school when she can. We enjoy her presence. She helps to make Bishop Byrne the great school that it is today.

Dean Richard Griffith (left), Father Rick Gantert, Pastor of St. Paul's, and Fr. Jim Martell joined Bishop Steib for the celebration.

Every year students are inducted into the National Honor Society. Students with a G.P.A. of 3.25 or higher are nominated by the faculty. The averages are verified by the sponsor, Dr. Frank Maranise, and the faculty votes on the list of students. Those selected are honored during the induction ceremony, to which family and friends are invited. The chapter officers introduce the five requirements for membership. The five officers each light a candle symbolizing: Knowledge, Leadership, Character, Service, and Scholarship. Next, the inductees repeat the Oath of Commitment to ensure their willingness to join the National Honor Society. Dr. Edwards, the principal, then presents them with their certificates of membership and each inductee lights a candle signifying their future in the society. Lastly, the current officers recognize and induct the officers for the 2006-2007 school year.
