Dedication

After 34 years as Bishop Byrne's Art teacher, Mrs. Sharon Moore continues to share her talents with the students. Determined to bring new artists to the foreground, this artistic genius is not planning on leaving anytime soon. We are so blessed to have such a gentle spirit and creative person as a teacher. She served 10 years as the yearbook advisor, as well as cheerleading coach, creative writing and religion teacher. We want to honor Mrs. Moore by dedicating our "100 Years and Counting" edition to her. Thank you, Mrs. Moore, for helping us learn that art is more than drawing, but it is life in the making!

May, 2008

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations to you as you complete your senior year of studies at Bishop Byrne Middle and High School! Congratulations as you receive your diplomas and look to the future with the knowledge that you have accomplished and achieved the standards and discipline required of you!

I pray that the lessons learned and the values achieved will serve you in good stead as you strive to meet the challenges ahead. I pray that the wisdom gained and the knowledge attained will fortify you for the path you have chosen for your future.

May you always remember with pride that you are graduates of Bishop Byrne High School! And, may Bishop Byrne High School always be proud to claim you as its graduates of the year 2008!

Congratulations and may God bless each and every one of you!

In the Divine Word,

+ J. Terry Steib, S.V.D.

A Brief History of Bishop Byrne Middle and High School

The parish of St. Thomas opened in 1905 and was named in honor of the Bishop of Nashville at that time, Thomas Sebastian Byrne. An elementary school opened in the parish in 1907, and in 1944 a high school program was added. It was coeducational for one year. Then, in 1945, the boys were sent to Catholic High School for Boys on Central Avenue. St. Thomas High School then became an all girls school. They continued to operate St. Thomas until its closing in 1965.

In 1945, St. Paul Parish was built to serve the growing Catholic population in the Whitehaven area. A few years later, an elementary school was open. Father Cleary, St. Paul's pastor in the 1960's, envisioned a Catholic coed high school in the area. The name was changed from St. Thomas High School to Bishop Byrne High School. Father Thomas Cashin, a priest of the Diocese of Nashville (and a Memphian) was the first principal of Bishop Byrne. With him were the Saint Cecilia Dominican Sisters of Nashville. Father Cashin had recently been the chaplain of their motherhouse in Nashville.

Bishop Byrne's student body came from Memphis, other parts of Shelby County, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi, particularly from St. Paul School in Memphis, Sacred Heart Grade School in Walls, Mississippi and Holy Family School in Holly Springs, Mississippi.

In 1990, Bishop Byrne added grades seven and eight and began the Middle School, following diocesan plans. Bishop Byrne piloted the middle school program which was added later to Memphis Catholic and Immaculate Conception High Schools. Children from Memphis Jubilee schools began attending in 2006.

Bishop Byrne is proud to be accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, having recently exceeded the standards for reaccreditation and achieving recognition as an outstanding Middle and High School.

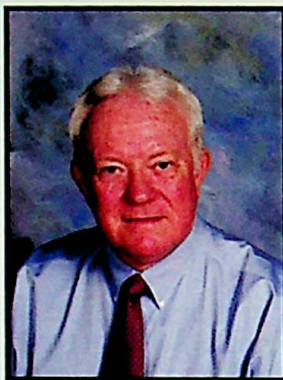

Throughout this yearbook, you will find historical pictures randomly scattered throughout. We hope you enjoy this glimpse into the past.

Senior year is a hectic year in high school. There are so many decisions to make and so many deadlines to meet. Sometimes it seems like there is not enough time to complete all of the tasks on the list of things to do. Through the challenges of filling out college applications, to the enlightening experience of the Kairos retreat, to the festivities of Homecoming, and many other happy times, we have captured pictures to remember all of these memorable events.

Athletes of the Senior class

Attended St. Paul's and Bishop Byrne for a total of 12 years

The Senior Class enjoyed a day away from school, at the Pink Palace. It was their moment to shine in the spotlight for their continuous hard work at Bishop Byrne. This day turn out to be memorable because President Bush was scheduled to make a visit to the Pink Palace. The Seniors were hoping to have the opportunity to greet the president, but were not able to do so. It was a fun and relaxing day for the Seniors who spent the rest of their time eating, and sharing some bonding time with their fellow classmates at Buffalo Wild Wings.

The Pink Palace explores the region's natural and cultural history. The museum's unusual name comes from the marble used in its construction. The 1920's house was the home of entrepreneur Clarence Saunders, whose Piggly Wiggly self service grocery store was the forerunner of today's supermarkets. In the early 1920's, Saunders began construction of a pink marble mansion in Memphis, but it was never completed and he was forced to sell it due to financial problems. The Pink Palace later became a museum and it includes a walk-through model of the first Piggly Wiggly store, complete with two cent packets of Kellogg's Cornflakes and eight cent cans of Campbell's Soup. Despite predictions that this new kind of store would fail, the first Piggly Wiggly opened September 6, 1916 at 79 Jefferson street in Memphis. Operating under the unusual name Piggly Wiggly, it was unlike any other grocery store of that time. Spotlight on Seniors

and Miss Bishop Byrne

Silvia Rubian Sermeno Maciel came to the United States when she was only a year old. She has played the violin since she was in the fifth grade and it is one of her main hobbies. She is involved in the Key Club and Peace Jam. She also enjoys playing softball and tennis. She has been a member of the Honor Society since the tenth grade and currently holds the position of Senior class secretary. In the future she plans to be a doctor or an electrical engineer.

Mario Carruth was born on October 10, 1989 in Memphis TN. He has attended Bishop Byrne since the seventh grade. Throughout his high school years he has participated in baseball, track, and basketball. He plans to graduate at least number five in his class and plans to attend college and major in Biology.

Drama

Mr. King looks cool as he prepares for his role as crime fighting Lieutenant Brannigan.

The Theater Guild gave several excellent performances of "Guys and Dolls" this year. They put in extra hours getting their lines and moves just right. Crew members worked on the set until it was as close as it could be to a 1940's American town. 2001 graduate Denardo Crawford lent his talents as director and actor, ensuring the huge success of this year's play.

Denardo, unlike Mr. King, looks like he is losing his cool! We hope he took a nice long break after the play wrapped.

This year the Technology offerings at our school have expanded. Bishop Byrne is the only Catholic school in the region to offer a Computer Assembly class. Our students were honored to assist St. Patrick's school by updating and repairing their computers. Under Mr. Garcia's direction, students installed white boards in every classroom at Bishop Byrne. Technology is utilized in almost every subject. Exciting plans are in place to prepare students for the demands they will face as they become leaders in the twenty-first century workplace and economy.

St. Cecilia

Interview with Mr. Garcia about St. Cecilia Pictures

Q: What would you like the students of Bishop Byrne to know about about the St. Cecilia pictures?

Mr. Garcia: Those pictures were originally taken at the St. Cecilia Chapel in Nashville, Tennessee. Sister Mary Bridgid showed them to me last year, and I fell in love with the pictures. Therefore, I asked my mother if it was possible to make a large replica of them.

Q: How were the pictures constructed?

Mr. Garcia: The pictures were printed in my mom's business, Industrial Vinyl Printers. in New Jersey Newark. Before they were printed, we had to edit the images in Photoshop to clear some defects, resize them and restore broken borders. Many of our students helped hang the pictures in the commons.

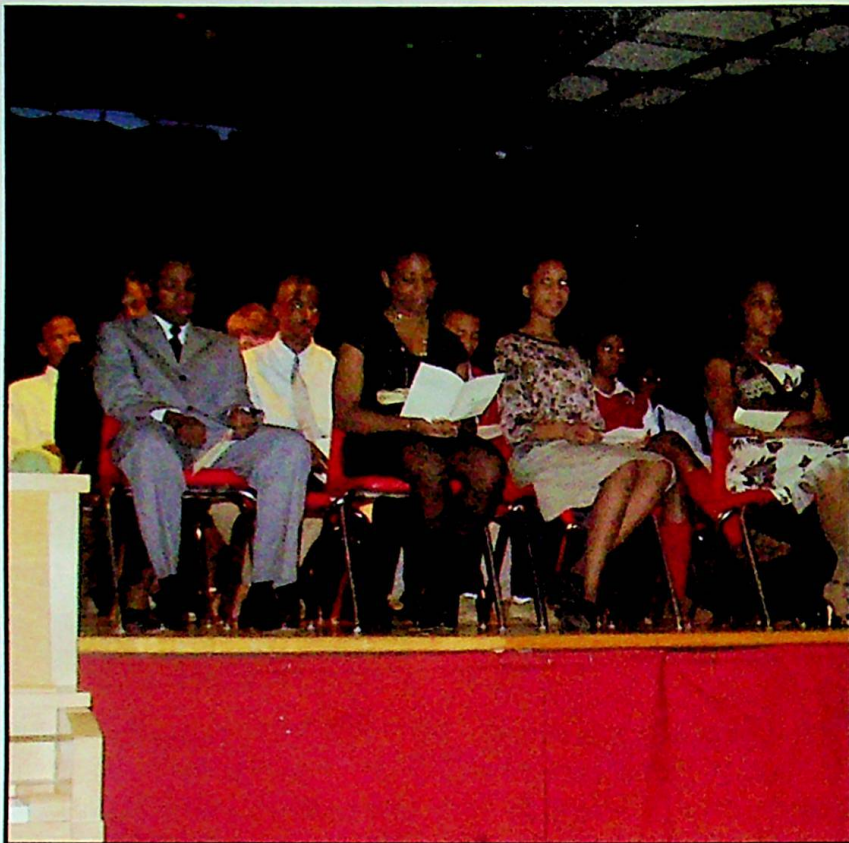

The first annual Red Tie/Black Gown Gala was an elegant affair emceed by local meteorologist and alum, Ron Childers. The NorthWest Mississippi Community College Jazz Band provided exquisite live music. The attendees enjoyed wonderful food and participated in a silent auction in which guests bid on unique and valuable items donated by friends of Bishop Byrne. After this year's success, the Red Tie/ Black Gown Gala is sure to become a highly anticipated occasion.

Vershae Butler visits the Sisters

Leonard Burnes and Alan Presley show us how to relax and have a good time.

Waiting for the March to begin. Our mission is to convince women to not take away a life. We remind them, "Your Mama Chose Life"!

This is the third station of the cross, Jesus Falls For The First Time.

March for Life was a worthwhile experience to help make abortion illegal. Until the laws are changed, Bishop Byrne will be there. We cried as we heard the heartwrenching stories of poor defenseless children losing their lives. Many women shared their regret at having abortions. Jesus is Pro-Life!

April 19, 2008

This year's prom was the most remarkable. The fashion trends, luxury cars, limousines, and obvious dates made the night worthwhile in spite of some last minute prom planning.

The Royal dance between Queen Britani Taylor and King Brandon Taylor made many envy them!

Our own Coach Grannan is the 2008 recipient of the Rex Dockery
Regional Coach of the Year Award.

Rex Dockery was the 1981 Memphis State
(now the University of Memphis) football coach who was respected for his coaching ability as well as his character. He felt his role as a coach was to shape young lives.
After Dockery died in a plane crash in 1983,
the award was set up in his name to honor coaches who follow his example by investing in the lives of their team members
and teaching them to combine discipline, hard work, humor, love and laughter to achieve success on the field and off.

Congratulations and thank you Coach for your commitment and example!

Top Scholar 2008

Kiera, you are an angel sent from above. Only God could have created such a loving, kind and spiritual person. You are beautiful inside as well as out. Keep excelling and strive to be the very best in all your endeavors. Remember, God is the key to your success.
Love,

Mom, Dad, and Dennis

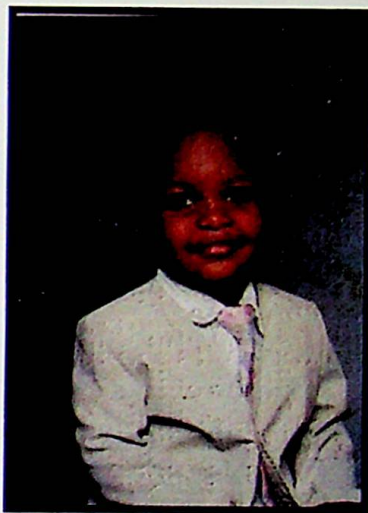

My Beautiful Granddaughter,

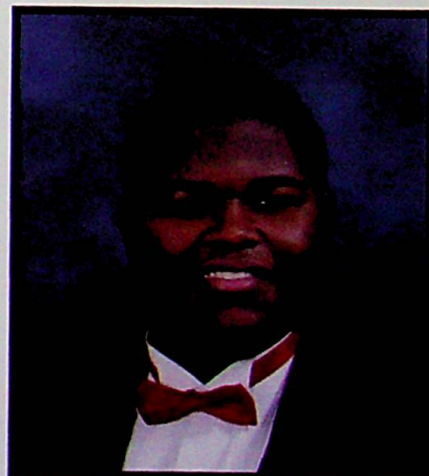

Keep pressing toward the mark of the high calling and you will win the prize for which God has called you heavenward in Christ Jesus. Continue to set high standards for yourself. In everything you do, put God first and he will direct your path and crown your effort with success.

GUIDANCE

We have a service to suit the purse of the humble as well as the rich. All distinction of class and wealth are forgotten. Every service is conducted with the same quiet dignity...sympathetic understanding and capable attention to the smallest details.

Congratulations Britani Alise Taylor

"For I know the plans I have for you, declares the LORD, plans to prosper you, not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

Britani,
We are so very proud of your achievements,
your dedication and determination.
Continue to believe in yourself and know we will always be here for you.
Never be afraid to face new challenges in life.
Remember to ALWAYS seek GOD and
HE will direct your path

Be respectful, responsible, have fun,
and enjoy your life.
Know that you were born to WIN!
We know you are going to do well in college.
We wish you the very best!

We Love You baby girl,
Mom and Dad

All new beginnings require that you unlock the door. Unlock the door and do your thang lil' sis! There is and always has been one thing that will not change - I will always have your back.

Congratulations! Luv ya!

Your big Brother,

Trae

"In his heart a man plans his course, but the
